

HUGHES HALL
UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE

Publication Scheme

Introduction

Hughes Hall is the oldest college in Cambridge for graduates and mature students qualified to be matriculated in the University of Cambridge. On its foundation in 1885 the College sought, first, to qualify women to enter the teaching profession. It received its Royal Charter in 2006 and became a full college of the University of Cambridge and today provides opportunities for men and women aged 21 and over to study for any undergraduate or postgraduate degree, including training for the professions, especially, teaching, medicine and the law. Hughes Hall currently has over 700 students with 65% studying for a postgraduate degree.

Of note, each Cambridge College is an independent institution with its own property and income. The Colleges appoint their own staff and are responsible for selecting students, in accordance with University regulations. The teaching of students is shared between the Colleges and University departments.
